

---

OBJECTIVE

Anna is a Tulane student studying Psychology and Philosophy with a minor in Religious Studies. An avid learner, her fascination with how the brain works and why people manifest certain behaviors has motivated her to explore psychology and neuroscience at both hospitals and top university programs. Her experience with psychological testing and research has given her extensive knowledge, critical analysis, and interpersonal skills, which can be applied to a variety of opportunities.

---

EDUCATION

Tulane University
Bachelor of Science, Majors: Psychology and Philosophy, Minor: Religious Studies New Orleans, LA
May 2023

SPI Study Abroad
Study Abroad Program, Spanish San Sebastian, Spain
July 2018

---

EXPERIENCE

Psychology and Neuroscience Program at Harvard University Cambridge, MA
Lab Assistant July 2017

- Hands-on lab experience
- Tested effects of drugs on bugs
- Analyzed case files to arrive at a diagnosis
- Learned about different aspects of psychology and neuroscience from guest lecturers and classes led by Harvard professors
- Participated in a leadership summit to develop skills in order to facilitate a strong team dynamic

Neuropsychological Testing, Memory & Therapy Center Stuart, FL
Intern June 2017- Present

- Observed neurological testing for patients
- Scored neurological tests
- Organized insurance paperwork

Jupiter Medical Center Jupiter, FL
Volunteer September 2016- 2019

- Discharged and admitted patients
- Transferred data to labs
- Read x-rays and lab reports
- Gained in-depth knowledge about patient care and how a hospital runs

---

LEADERSHIP

Captain, Junior Varsity Soccer Team November 2016-2019
President, Benjamin Animal Rescue Club September 2016-May 2019
Vice President, Sunshine Club September 2016-May 2019

---

SKILLS

Computer: Microsoft Office, Google Chrome
Languages: Spanish (Conversational), Russian (Basics)

---

INTERESTS

Film
New York Yankees
Literature
Religious Studies